Main Ingredients

Fructose

Fructose is a new sugar extracted from a variety of fruits and grains. It is not easy to produce fat accumulation and gain weight, and it will not produce dental caries, Hence, it is recognized by more people. Fructose are mainly coming from natural fruits and grains, It has the advantages of good taste, high sweetness, low glycemic index, and less likely to cause dental caries. At the same sweetness standard, the intake of fructose is only half of the amount for sucrose.

L-carnitine

Known as "green and healthy" L-carnitine, what is really broken down in our body is a matter known as "mitochondria". Fat can be oxidized and decomposed only after it is captured by mitochondria. But the outside of the mitochondria is wrapped with a barrier which is the mitochondrial membrane. Since L-carnitine can easily shuttle inside and outside from the mitochondrial membrane to carry fat into the line Granules. So, L-carnitine is an essential substance for fat consumption.

Medium Chain Triglyceride (MCT)

Medium-chain triglycerides are only composed of saturated fatty acids, have a low freezing point, and are liquid at room temperature. It is an odorless, colorless transparent liquid. Compare to ordinary fats and hydrogenated fats., medium chain triglycerides unsaturated fatty acids are extremely low, and its oxidation stability is very high. Its iodine value does not exceed 0.5 MCT is particularly stable at high and low temperatures.
